Calgary Chaplain Speaker

War Dead Honored At Remembrance Service

Cold weather failed to appreciably affect the attendance at the annual Remembrance Day Service on Nov. 11, as over 300 town and district residents turned out to again pay homage to those who gave their lives in the two world wars and in Korea.

Guest speaker was Rev. E. N. P. Orme, MBE, CD, LTh., chaplain to the Colonel Belcher Hospital in Calgary, and a veteran of World War Two.

"Those who made the supreme sacrifice and now lie scattered in graves around the world are a living memorial to the successful effort they made to enable us to live a peaceful and happy life," said Chaplain Orme.

Drawing on his experiences as a wartime padre and as chaplain to a DVA hospital where he ministers to the spiritual needs of those who were wounded or otherwise rendered physically unfit as a result of their war services, Rev. Orme said that service in action "marked" many men and their wartime experiences had changed them. The DVA hospitals throughout Canada help rehabilitate these men to take their place in the civilian world. Those who were seriously wounded or otherwise bear permanent marks of their experience in action gave a great deal in the fight for freedom. "Let them, too, be included when we pay tribute to those who fought for us," urged the speaker.

The service was sponsored by the Vulcan Branch Canadian Legion and held in the Vulcan Armouries, with Legion Chaplain Rev. R. H. Johnson in charge. He was assisted by Rev. G. F. Wuerfel and Rev. A. P. Pearce.

Representing the Town of Vulcan, Deputy Mayor Frank Burck expressed sympathy to those who had lost loved ones in World War One and World War Two and asked that the annual service in honor of our war dead be "a true remembrance."

Following the call to worship and the opening hymn, the Last Post was sounded by trumpeter Harry Peard, followed by two minutes silence and the sounding of Reveille. A scripture reading and second hymn were followed by the Legion "Ceremony of Light" and an anthem by the United Church choir, accompanied by Mrs. W. W. Almond. Memorial prayers, a hymn and the benediction concluded the service in the Armouries.

Taking part in the parade were Legion members under President Jim O'Reilly, members of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, and members of the Vulcan Army Cadet Corps. Major R. C. R. Munro was parade marshal.

Due to the cold weather, the service at the cenotaph was cancelled, but wreaths were laid by representatives of various local organizations and by individuals.

Despite Cold Weather

Good Attendance At Annual Lomond Carnival

The annual Lomond Carnival, held last week, once again proved to be most successful under the joint sponsorship of the Lomond Lions Club and Lomond Curling Club. There was a fair attendance on Thursday evening and a very large crowd Friday evening, considering the extremely cold weather which prevailed.

Many lucky people carried home nice prizes from the various games and the bingo, as usual, was well patronized.

The winner of the grand prize of a hi-fi set was young Charlie Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Stokes of Lomond.

The Curling Club draw for a boat was made at the carnival on Friday night and the winner was James Will of Milo with ticket number 68.

Will Donate To Providence Creche

The November meeting of the C.W.L. was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Roy McLennan. Father Marien, sixteen members and one visitor were present. A very interesting report on the conference held at High River was given by Mrs. Les Shaw. An inspiring spiritual lesson was given by Mrs. Louis Shaw.

Mrs. H. Peard conducted the business session of the meeting assisted by the secretary, Mrs. B. Caswell. The ladies were asked to leave their donations for the children at the Providence Creche with Mrs. Peard. There should be handed in soon so that they will arrive in Calgary in time for Christmas. The ladies decided to hold their annual Christmas party, with their husbands as guests on Dec. 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Miklos.

The meeting was adjourned with a closing prayer and benediction by Father Marien, after which Mrs. Louis Shaw and Mrs. Les Shaw served a delicious lunch. The tea prize was won by Mrs. V. Earl.

Services Held For Chas. MacDougall

Funeral services for Charles Dugald MacDougall, 67, who died unexpectedly at his Champion home on Saturday, Nov. 14, were conducted by Rev. Peter Dawson of Carmangay at the Champion United Church on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Mr. MacDougall was born in Baleveolan, Lismore, Scotland and came to Champion in 1920. He farmed there until his death and was prominently known as a breeder of purebred registered cattle and sheep.

He was predeceased by his wife, Mary, in 1954 and by a brother, Alex, in 1942. Surviving are a nephew, John MacDougall, at Champion, and a niece, Mrs. Colin Black of New Westminster, B.C., as well as several relatives in Scotland.

Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and interment was in the Vulcan cemetery.

men and women are registered. Extension Department representative H. Green was down from Edmonton recently and completed registrations.

Mr. Green commented favorably on the successful beginning of the workshop and was pleased with the well balanced sections. They contain about 18 ladies in soprano and alto sections and 12 men in the bass and tenor sides.

In addition to town members there are many persons taking the workshop course from the surrounding country and carloads come from Milo and Champion.

The workshop will continue till the end of the year.

Skating Tickets Reduced In Price

In an effort to attract more skaters this winter, season ticket prices at the Vulcan skating arena have been reduced to very nominal amounts, with children's tickets (school and pre-school) selling at $1.00, adult tickets at $2.00 and family tickets at $4.00.

Single admissions are 10c for children and 25c for adults.

Losers Pay As Golfers Enjoy Game Supper

A stag Golf Supper was held at the clubhouse last Friday night sponsored by approximately 27 members who claimed last summer, they were golfers, but who wound up paying the shot for 27 other members, the other evening.

Last summer, sides were drawn in the President vs. Vice-president challenge play. The Duos were scheduled during the season and last Friday it was president Ron Beuhler who travelled from table to table collecting the toll from his fallen buddies.

Vice-president John Jamison and his boys were more than gaunt at 7:45 p.m. when the holler to eat came from Bob Willard, kitchen foreman.

The vanquished ones may never make it in the golf world but the fowl supper they dished up was a delight to behold. Everything was there—quantities of ducks, pheasant and even a barnyard chicken appeared from one whose prowess with a gun equals his golf ability.

Behind the aprons was the kitchen crew made up of Bob Willard, Art Bacon, Jim O'Reilly and Benny Dann.

Ronnie Beuhler led off the speechmaking following supper and from the outset it was clear that brevity was going to be the style, either voluntarily or forcibly.

First up was Harold Boutland who was presented a cup denoting 1959 club champion. He, no doubt, had received help from Ray Wellman on how to accept such awards and came forward wearing a wide grin, got buck fever in front of the sea of faces, froze and was ushered to his seat with nary a word. Runner-up was Glen Gorbous. Golfer Harry Laroche won the Silver Division trophy. His hour was perfect until on his return to his table someone whispered loud, the thought that golfers built close to the ground have the advantage over the average.

Ted Howlett won the U.F.A. Handicap trophy and for his part launched into some farm talk about cream rising to the top and was promptly laughed to his seat by the crowd well aware of his dairy farming knowledge. Ray Wellman smoothly accepted his half of the two-ball foursome prize from donor Cliff McAskile, smiled and was greeted with silent awe by a houseful which despite the dark and drifted fairways hadn't the nerve to cast any loose challenges about.

The other half of the two-ball foursome winner was Glen Gorbous. He intimated he might forsake his baseball career next summer if the club thought they needed his services in a pro capacity. Three of his closer friends led him back to the kitchen.

The only honest attention of the night was given John Jamison, vice-president and he talked money. Four years ago the club came into constructive being by the offering of 500, $25 debentures. As he spoke, all but 25 debentures had been sold. Fifteen minutes after he sat down five more had gone, through his friendly persuasion, leaving 20 yet to be claimed.

There is still a bank deficit of $500, but considering the amount of large one-time expenditures that have been made and with the good revenue, the state of finances in the club was termed very healthy by the speaker. A final motion that the same group sponsor the event next year received only 50% support and so was defeated.

Editor's note: The above was penned by one who couldn't qualify for play, wasn't invited to the supper and free-loaded his way all night.

Reid Hill W.I. Names Officers

The annual meeting of the Reid Hill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. E. G. McPherson Thursday, Nov. 12, with Mrs. Frieda McRoberts and Mrs. W. Frickelton as assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Earl Deal, the president was in the chair and conducted the meeting assisted by Mrs. Fred Schuler, secretary. Twenty-one members answered roll call with "An Interesting Historical Figure" which proved highly interesting.

Committee reports were given, showing the branch had realized a nice profit from the recent bake sale and hamper draw. A motion was made that a plaque be bought as a handicraft award at the convention to be held at Barons in June. This plaque would replace prizes as they have been awarded and would require winning three consecutive years, to keep.

Mrs. Ross Walker gave a fine paper on Home Economics, choosing "Spices and their origin," which provided many ideas for their uses and that to which spices have been used throughout the ages. A paper on the United Nations, dealing largely with atomic fall-out and its terrible effects, was prepared and read by Mrs. F. McRoberts. Both papers were most interesting. Cards were distributed among the members to be attached to gifts to be sent to patients in mental institutions.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. C. Love took the chair to conduct the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. E. Deal was re-elected president by acclamation as were Mrs. R. Harold, vice-president. Mrs. John French was elected secretary by acclamation and Mrs. A. Sales re-elected treasurer. Directors named were Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall, Mrs. W. Frickelton and Mrs. H. Rutberg. Mrs. J. Marshall was named auditor. The sick and visiting committee appointed were Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. J. C. MacMillan and Mrs. Frieda McRoberts.

A delicious hot luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted in serving by Mrs. Bob Willard and Mrs. B. McKay.

Birthday remembrances were presented to Mrs. F. Schuler, Mrs. P. Schuler and Mrs. R. Adam, whose birthdays are in November. The tea draw was won by Mrs. J. Smith.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Mensinger, when a Christmas pie will be opened and a suitable program presented.

Next time you're talking "from the shoulder"—try a bit higher.

Mrs. Hutton Heads Good Deeds W.I.

The November meeting of the Good Deeds W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hutton with eight members and one visitor present. Roll call was answered with a number of ideas to help improve the programs for the coming year. The bake sale to be held on Nov. 28, was discussed and tickets handed out for the raffle of two woolen blankets. It was decided to order a dozen AWI cups and saucers from the head office. These are to be sold among the members.

As this was the annual meeting an election of officers took place as follows: President, Mrs. Robert Hutton; 1st vice-president, Mrs. George Dingwall; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. S. White; secretary, Mrs. C. Brown. It was decided to wait until more members are present before electing the treasurer and directors.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. S. White, convener of Health who gave a very interesting paper on danger signals. This dealt with the neglecting the warning that nature gives before illness strikes.

The tea raffle was won by Mrs. S. White. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robina Hutton and Mrs. J. Andrews. The place of the next meeting will be announced later.

Home and School Association

The regular November meeting of the Carmanagay Home and School Association was preceded by a bean supper; both were well attended.

During the short business meeting, Mr. Pruskey reported on the community Christmas card project which is well under way. It was announced that a card party is being planned for early in December.

Guest speakers for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Matkin of Lethbridge. Mrs. Matkin spoke on the importance of all members participating at meetings, thus bringing out unsuspected gifts and skills. She demonstrated this by giving every member a different subject on which each was required to speak briefly. Her concluding statement was, "There are no uninteresting things, only uninterested people."

Dr. Matkin led the members in a short song session which was greatly enjoyed. He also gave a talk which was based mainly on a series of articles appearing in the Saturday Evening Post under the heading, "Adventures of the Mind."

At the next meeting, the guest speaker will be Rev. K. H. Johnson of Vulcan and there will be a short concert put on by some of the members.

North Frisella Club

The November 4th meeting of the North Frisella Club was held at the home of Lydia Anderson with eight members in attendance.

The roll call was answered by telling where you would like to spend the winter.

The final arrangements were made for the Senior Citizens' party to be held on Nov. 9, in the United Church basement. The treasurer had sent a detailed birthday gift to Mrs. Kay Teskey. Mrs. Viyas Teskey won the prize for bingo and Mrs. Ken Miller won the raffle.

The hostess then served a delicious lunch. The next meeting on Nov. 18, will be held at Alta Hausers. This will be a birthday party for those having birthdays in October, November and December.

Senior Citizens' Get-To-Getner

Members of the North Frisella Club entertained the Senior Citizens of Carmanagay and district on Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the United Church. The entertainment committee comprising Leona Hunt, Elnora Anderson and Ruth Senumaker had decorated the hall in Halloween trimmings, the tables were also beautifully decorated.

The entertainment began at 3:00 p.m. The visitors were divided into three groups, ovals, pumpkins and ghosts. Some time was spent in community singing, and was really very good to hear the ladies and gents voices blend in old-time songs. Each member had been asked to bring a baby picture or one of their earlier days. Great merriment was caused while they were trying to identify the different pictures. Other contests were also held, which caused lots of laughter. Flowers were presented to the eldest lady, Mrs. Miller 84, and the eldest gent, Mr. Coe 89. The gent who had come to the district the earliest, Mr. Simmons, 1904; the gent with the heaviest head of hair, Joe Williams.

The president of the club, Mrs. Connie Steiner was then introduced to the honored guests and she welcomed them to the party. About 30 guests then sat down to a chicken dinner. Rev. Dawson then said grace and all enjoyed the feast.

The evening finished off by each guest drawing a stunt or fortune from a pumpkin and reading or acting it out. All left for home in a happy mood. The Frisella Club hoping they will be able to be back for the next party.

Cameron Commission Report

Greatly increased emphasis on mathematics, science, reading, writing and spelling, half an hour more instruction per day, formation of a Master Teacher group, permanent certification only of teachers holding degrees, higher teacher salaries, institution of community colleges, and more local autonomy... these are only a few of the suggestions contained in the Cameron Commission on Education, filed Monday with the Government of Alberta.

In all, 28 recommendations were made for the improvement of education in Alberta by the members of the commission, who spent something in excess of 200 days in its preparation, over a period of the last 22 months.

Termed by Premier Manning as the most comprehensive survey of education ever made in this country, the report embraces 510 pages, with a minority report filed by one member of 280 pages.

Six copies were released by Premier Manning on Thursday morning, one copy of which was received by a special committee of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association. The manuscript is in the process of being printed, and copies will be released to the general public in probably three weeks, Mr. Manning said.

The Premier said there would probably not be time to give the report sufficient study to introduce any legislation from it at the next session. He announced the session would open February 11.

One of the chief recommendations of the report is the upgrading of teacher qualifications to a minimum of four years of training for permanent certification. According to Dr. Mowat, deputy chairman of the Commission, this was the focal point of the report. Dr. Mowat pointed out that the quality of the entire education system was based on the capabilities and training of the teachers involved.

Up to four extra increments could also be paid for meritorious service.

The upgrading suggested would range over a period of 1971, progressing in steps, and would see teachers reach maximum salary in six increments. Provision was suggested for the inclusion of a new Master Teacher group, comprising from one to five per cent of the entire teacher force. Extra salary of $2,000 per year would be paid to such teachers.

The suggested upgrading would not affect permanent certificates already in force, the Commission pointed out, in an interview, but the salary emphasis on increased qualifications would encourage more teachers to qualify, they felt.

Mrs. Taylor, however, felt that the recommendation for community colleges was a major break-through for rural youth. The development of present-day agricultural colleges into centres offering vocational, agricultural and trades training offering a new horizon for farm young people. During later questioning, it was suggested there should be at least half a dozen such centres, designed to fill the gap after leaving high school for students who are men- tions urging increased attention and time for reading at all grades, spelling, mathematics generally, legible handwriting, sciences, and physical fitness. It goes on to urge the adoption of an achievement test for students leaving school at any level before Grade 12, based on communication and computational skills.

A central feature of the suggestion is for accredited schools. These would be accredited by the Department of Education, and come up to certain staff and equipment standards. Such schools would be allowed wide latitude in the handling of the course of studies, though, of course at least the basic curriculum would be covered.

The report recommends the continuation of Departmental Examinations in Grades 9 and 12, and the reinstatement of such examinations in Grades 10 and 11, in schools not accredited. Accredited schools would handle the tests themselves.

Wider local authority is urged in the report, including the appointment of superintendents by the local governing board, rather than by the Department as at present. It is suggested the superintendent is often placed in the position of trying to serve two masters, which would be avoided if he were locally appointed.

Greatly increased emphasis on guidance and remedial instruction is urged in the report, which suggests the adoption of regional offices in rural areas, to extend these services to districts which could not afford them on their own. Such zones might be similar to the areas now covered by high school inspectors, or the zones of the Alberta School Trustees Association.

The committee suggested that students in Grade 11 and 12 be urged to adopt one major area of study, on which they should spend at least 40 percent of their time. It was also recommended that achievement at the Grade 9 level should be used more rigorously to determine the courses to be undertaken in Senior High School.

Junior High School hours would be increased from 300 minutes to 330 minutes per day, and Senior High School to a minimum of 360 minutes per day, under Commission suggestions. Additionally, it is suggested that the time for 5-credit courses be increased from 175 minutes per week to 225 minutes per week.

Final suggestion of the group is that the Legislature establish an Alberta Educational Planning Commission at the earliest possibility.

The commission was headed by Senator Donald Cameron, and included deputy chairman Dr. G. L. Mowat, Mrs. D. A. Hanson, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, John S. Cormack and Norman W. Douglas. Secretary was Dr. R. E. Rees.

Towards the end of the week, snow with winds moved in and on Saturday, roads were heavy and in places badly drifted. It may be that our cold weather will all be on the first part of winter and that good old Indian Summer shall prevail in January.

What price auto insurance?

Many things help decide what the insurance premium on any motor vehicle will be. Eventually, however, they all have to boil down to two things—the number and the costs of accidents in any particular area. Here are the main factors used to determine your car insurance rates:

1 Where You Live — Generally those people who live in a small town will pay less than those living in a large city. More accidents, per number of cars, occur in and around the city. Canada is divided, for car insurance purposes, into 44 different "rating areas"; and costs of insurance in each area depend on the number and the severity of claims involving cars from that area.

2 Your Age Group — Statistics show that single men under 25 years of age have the worst driving records. They, therefore, pay the highest rates. Because the probabilities that they will be involved in a costly accident have been repeatedly shown to be greater when people under 25 own their own car, the rates are higher than if they just drive the family car now and then.

3 Your Driving Record — If you have not had an accident in the past three years, most companies give you a 35 per cent discount off the prevailing rate for third party liability and collision insurance for your group and for your area. If you have a two year accident free record you get a 20 per cent reduction and for one year "clean" record, 10 per cent. Therefore, your own driving record plays an important part in the cost of your automobile insurance.

4 Use of Your Car — If your car is used mainly for business, your rate is higher than if it is only used for pleasure, because the business car is basically driven more often at peak traffic periods and in congested areas. Therefore, it is more exposed to the risk of accidents than is the pleasure car. Driving to work, however, is not considered as business use.

5 The Variety of Coverage you have — There are many different types of car insurance available; to protect you for the claims of others, to reimburse you for damage to your own car, to pay you in the event of fire or theft and a variety of other hazards. Naturally, the greater the number of insurance coverages you have, the greater the protection to you — and also the greater the cost.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

By H. S. Burns

Tests regarding fertilizer on pastures have been conducted for several years, at various experimental stations throughout the west and usually the higher rates of application would show the greatest increased profits, but this year's tests have been conducted at Lacombe using as high as 800 pounds per acre but the 400 pound rate showed the greatest profit according to Forage Crop Specialist, W. Doran of that station. Here are the figures: Creeping red fescue, brome and brome-alfalfa, are the three types of pasture observed. The pasture season in the three years 1956-58, averaged only 85 days. This year, grazing continued for 120 days, a difference for which the increased fertilizer would seem largely responsible.

Applied in the Spring of 1959, 400 pounds per acre of 16-20-0, produced 394 pounds of beef per acre, unfertilized pasture produced 192 pounds. Daily rate of grain from the fertilized pasture was 2.43 pounds compared with 1.84 pounds from the unfertilized. Carrying capacity of the pasture was increased by 55%. Compared with the 200 pound rate for the three year period 1956-58, the 400 pounds of 16-20-0 this year averaged 142 pounds more beef per acre and showed 0-21 pounds greater daily gain.

Greatest response to the 400 pound rate was demonstrated by the Brome & Fescue pastures, Mr. Doran reports. They produced 143% and 100% more beef respectively than the corresponding unfertilized pastures. With Brome & Alfalfa, the gain was 82%. The Brome pasture was as productive as the mixture, which indicates the possibility of maintaining or increasing the productivity of pure
